Carpets, Rugs and Matting....

It's easy to get to our Carpet Room—no climbing of stairs necessary, merely a walk to the elevator, and you're landed with safety and dispatch on the fourth floor, which is given up entirely to Carpets, Rugs, Matting, etc. And what a rich reward awaits you there. Hundreds and hundreds of rolls of floor coverings of the most artistic and worthy quality. High class Carpets, exquisitely woven Rugs, Japanese and Chinese Matting of almost exclusive designs, go toward making up a stock which challenges the admiration of all who visit this department. Shrewd buying enables us to offer rare values in the best grades of carpets.

We can put a No. 1 article on your floor for about the same you'd pay for an inferior quality elsewhere.

THE OFFICIALS

Selected for the New Wheeling Corrugating Company.

N. E. WHITAKER THE PRESIDENT

E. C. Ewing the Vice President, Alex. Glass Secretary, and Albert Whitaker Treasurer—A. B. Carter, of the Bellaire Steel Works, Made General Superintendent for Wheeling District Plants of the National Steel Company.

In the merging of the interests of the Whitaker Iron works and Wheeling Corrugating Company, in which the corporate name of the former will disappear in favor of the latter, the Intelligencer has it on good authority the following principal officers will be chosen: President—N. E. Whitaker. Vice president—E. C. Ewing. Secretary—Alex. Glass. Treasurer—Albert Whitaker. Messrs. N. E. Whitaker and Albert Whitaker are the president and secretary respectively of the Whitaker Iron works, and Messrs. Ewing and Glass are president and secretary respectively of the Wheeling Corrugating Company. It is said there will be few or no changes in the office forces, the work of the new concern requiring as many as are now employed by the two companies.

Mr. A. B. Carter, of this city, who has been the vice president and practical head of the Bellaire steel works for years, and who has continued in charge since that concern's absorption by the National Steel Company, has been made general superintendent of the Wheeling district plants of the National, including the Bellaire, Aetna-Standard and Mingo plants. Mr. Carter is generally conceded to be a very able official in iron and steel circles. His headquarters will be at Bellaire.

Fire at the National Steel Company plant at Mingo Junction yesterday morning destroyed the old carpenter shop with a large quantity of lumber. An adjoining shed in which engines were repaired was burned and a dinky engine in it was damaged.
